K-12 and higher education can spend less time on getting messages out, more time on core competencies

A Cleo Stream solution is a complete messaging platform that improves the way institutions move and gather data. By enabling cost-effective — and cost-cutting — desktop faxing, Cleo Stream is the solution for your indispensable fax-based workflows.

More than a fax solution, Cleo Stream stands apart in the marketplace enabling schools to improve multiple messaging methods. Whether sending one message to a large group or an interactive, personalized message to one person, the Cleo Stream technology allows institutions to reach their audience via phone, email, text, or fax. IT departments that have done their homework know that the Cleo Stream product is a versatile, well-rounded solution for education.

How Cleo Strem can Improve Fax Workflows for Education

- Tie all your multifunction devices together to create a centralized communications platform, providing substantial cost savings, security, and convenience.
- A centrally controlled database helps make enterprise-wide contact maintenance and editing quick and easy.
- Allow inbound faxes to arrive directly into a recipient's inbox, a network folder, or a document management system. Still need a hard copy? Cleo Strem can integrate with multifunction devices to receive those as well.
- Manual outbound faxing wastes employees' time and increases the cost of consumables. By automating the workflow, companies can trim the hard and soft costs incurred for their critical fax communications.

Possible Uses for Cleo Strem Notification Features

School and campus-wide alerts: Notify students and staff of school, building or campus closings, class cancellations or special events with minimal effort from staff.

Voice surveys: Deliver interactive surveys to parents, students, administrators, staff or vendors in a timely, cost-effective fashion. See real-time feedback on reports generated upon completion of the survey so you can act quickly on the gathered data.

Critical alerts: Alert staff, campus security, police and first responders in the event of an emergency.

General information alerts: Inform staff of key events and operational status changes. Update students on schedule or assignments modifications. Notify alumni or prospective students of upcoming events.

Automated professor or staff callback: Automatically notify a qualified pool or substitute professors or staff of positions with a call that prompts them to accept or decline the assignment. Responses are logged and reported to HR in real-time.

Automate phone trees: Facilitate immediate staff callouts for quick, efficient crew assembly.
